OBJECTIVE

To present at National Conferences, Diocesan Institutes, Regional Assemblies, Schools/Clusters of Schools, and Parent Assemblies on topics of parenting education, child development, spiritual leadership, and teacher preparation/formative support/classroom management.

SYNOPSIS

During doctoral studies at the University of San Francisco (1995) and post-doctoral research I questioned to what degree the Catholic School was operating as an agent of formative parenting, that is, helping parents to experience adequacy in their role as primary educators. The results of my work evolved into a fulltime ministry as a formation-education consultant to both parents and teachers. I provide presentations, workshops, retreat days, and in-service days. I write for publication on formation-education topics. Additionally I offer workshops to teachers on being agents of Catholic identity, classroom management and on other teacher formation issues. My presentation style combines theory, practical applications, and spirituality. Consistent feedback labels my teaching as inspirational and motivational. Superintendents, principals and teachers suggest that my work would be a positive contribution to programs of Catholic educational leadership and teacher preparation. As the director of the IHM Office of Formative Support for Parents and Teachers I offer formative education to teachers throughout the United States during the academic school year. My summers are dedicated to publication writing and adjunct teaching in programs for teachers and administrators in Catholic schools.

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

1997 – Current

Educational Consultant

My primary ministry is the development of the IHM Office of Formative Support for Parents & Teachers. Through publication, public speaking, and workshops I address the needs of child formation to parent groups, teacher groups, and organizations in the private and public sector. I am working towards the creation of a program of Parent Formation that will address child formation needs from birth through grade 12.

1995 – Current

Public Speaker

I engage in public speaking at international, national, regional, diocesan and parish levels on topics related to child formation, parenting, teacher preparation and adult spirituality.

1994 – Current

Textbook Company Consultant

I function as a part-time national consultant for Wm. H. Sadlier, Inc., providing teacher in-service on the Math books published by that company and offering professional workshops on curriculum, classroom management, or child formation.

1984 – Current

College Instructor, Adjunct, Guest Lecturer in Graduate Studies

Summer 2007: I served as adjunct in the EPICS Program, Seton Hall University, NJ.
(Educational Partners in Catholic Schools).

Course: History of Catholic Education

Retreat Director: The Sacramentality of Catholic Educators

Fall 2003: For one month I lectured at the China Institute of Technology. There I taught two courses:

Learning Theory and Instructional Design

Teaching English as a Second Language

I also provided large-scale workshops on Formation Education topics of self-esteem and self-discipline.

Summer 2003: I served as adjunct graduate faculty at Spalding University, Louisville, KY. There I taught a summer course of:

EDD 750: Learning Theory and Instructional Design

Winter & Summer 2002: I served as adjunct graduate faculty at Catholic University of America, Washington, DC. There I taught two semesters of:

EDD 825: Character Education

2001 – 2002: I served as guest lecturer at Immaculata University, PA, offering one-week summer courses on the following:

Classroom Culture & Self-Discipline

Family Formation

Identity Formation Education

Student Development of Security

Formation Practices for Classroom Management

1984-1985: I was a fulltime instructor at Immaculata University, PA. I was a director of teacher education, Moderator of the Education Club, and responsible for five courses:

EDU 301: Social Foundations of Education

EDU 302: Educational Psychology

EDU 315: Strategies of Teaching Language Arts and Social Studies

EDU 321: Field Experience & Practicum Seminar

EDU 381: Education of the Exceptional Child

1983 – 1992

Administrator

1985 – 1992: Vice-Principal, St. Simon Elementary School, Los Altos, CA

1983 – 1984: Principal, Holy Family Elementary School, Manyunk, PA

1967 – 1997

Teacher

I taught in seven elementary schools and one secondary school.

INTERESTS

I am interested in transpersonal psychology and adult spirituality. I pursue personal spiritual growth through daily meditation, prayer, spiritual reading and Eucharist; regular psycho-spiritual direction; and frequent participation in days of retreat or retreat programs.

I have experience as a retreat director for school administrators, faculty retreats, adult groups, and for students preparing for Confirmation.

I provide retreat-seminars that explore the connection between Myers Briggs Type Inventory and personal prayer style.

I appreciate nature, living history experiences, movies, mystery books, and travel.
